From the next term, the student will have to take study leave to continue as a full-time student or be treated as a part-time PhD student.
- (iii) A PhD student serving in any organization will be admitted as a part-time student while continuing in employment with a written consent of the employer that the student will be allowed to pursue PhD in Khulna University.
- (iv) Teachers/staffs of Khulna University may pursue a PhD degree as a part-time student while continuing in employment with a written consent of the authority without taking a study leave.
- (v) Change of studentship status from full-time to part-time or vice-versa may be allowed once in PhD program. The student must apply in a prescribed form (Appendix 10) for a change of status through supervisor and/or Head of the Discipline/Director of the Institute/Centre to the Dean of the School or the Director of the Institute/Centre who will approve the change and report it through EC to the BOAS and AC. The calculation of the remaining period of study will be made accordingly, e.g., if a part-time student changes his/her status after two terms (i.e., 25%), he/she will be required to complete his/her degree in at least five terms (i.e., 75% [$75/16.67=4.49$ terms ~ 5 terms, here 16.67 comes from $100/6$ terms]).

(iii) Calculation of GPA:

Grade Point Average (GPA) is the weighted average of the grade points obtained in all the coursework passed/completed by a student. For example, if a student passes/completes three courses in a term having credits/points of C₁, C₂, and C₃ and his/her grade points in these courses are G₁, G₂, and G₃ respectively then,

$$\text{GPA} = \frac{\sum C_i G_i}{\sum C_i}, \text{ where } i = 1, 2, 3$$

For example: If a student completes three courses in a Term and obtains the grades as shown in the following Table, his/her GPA for the term will be computed as follows:

$$\text{GPA} = 3(4.0) + 3(3.0) + 3(3.75) / (3 + 3 + 3) = 3.58$$

Course ²⁰	Credit	Grade	Grade Points
0311 15 Econ 101102	3	A+	4.00
0311 15 Econ 101112	3	C+	3.00
0311 15 Econ 101132	3	A	3.75

(iv) Performance Evaluation:

The performance of a student will be evaluated in terms of three indices, viz. Term Grade Point Average (TGPA), Yearly Grade Point Average (YGPA) and Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA). The TGPA is computed by dividing the total grade points earned in a Term by the number of Credit Hours taken in a Term. The YGPA is computed by dividing the total grade points earned in two terms in a year by the number of credits/points earned that year. The CGPA is computed by dividing the total grade points accumulated up to date by the total credits/points earned. For example, a student who has earned 275 grade points in earning 100 credits/points of courses will have a CGPA of 2.75.

27 Review of Results

- (i) Re-scrutiny of any coursework answer script may be possible/allowed if the student applies in writing following prescribed procedure and paying appropriate fee within 15 days after publication of the results. In such case, the chairman of the Examination Committee will make arrangement for re-scrutiny of answer script in question consulting with the Head of the Discipline or the Director of the Institute/Centre.
- (ii) A student can have his/her results re-examined by applying to the Controller of Examinations via the Head of the Discipline or the Director of the Institute/Centre within one (01) week from the date of publication of results. The Controller of Examinations will take measures in consultation with the concerned committee.
- (iii) Result following the re-scrutiny or re-examination is final and binding.

28 Earned Credits/Points²¹

Only that coursework in which a student obtains at least "D" will be counted as credit earned by him/her and this grade will be shown on the transcript.

²⁰ Details are available in section 14.

²¹ 'One credit' will be treated as equivalent to 'one point'.

Guide to Doctoral Research Proposal Preparation

This guide is designed to provide students with general guidelines and instructions for preparing and formatting of doctoral research proposal for PhD application. It covers structure, layout, form, style, and referencing along with citation.

General Information

1. Proposal Title

The proposal must have a working title. The title will be finalized consulting with the supervisor and the DRAC.

2. Word Limit and Paper Size

The length of the proposal will be between 1000 to 2000 words. The recommended paper size is A4.

3. Language

A proposal will be written in English. However, a proposal on Bangla language, linguistics, literature, and culture may be written in Bangla language provided that an English translation of the Title and an Executive Summary of the proposal containing at least 500 words have been added. British or American English should be used consistently if the proposal is written in English, while Sadhu or Cholito form of Bangla should be maintained throughout the proposal, if written in Bangla.

4. General Formatting

4.1 Page Size

The proposal must be printed on A4 size page (8.27" x 11.69") with white background and black font for the text.

4.2 Margins

The margins must be 1 inch in every side in every page. Text should be justified.

4.3 Font

Times New Roman font should be used to prepare the proposal in English, while SutonnyMJ/Nikosh font for the proposal in Bangla. Font size will be as: Title on the Title page 14-point; headings and sub-headings 12-point; texts in tables, figures, charts, diagrams, graphs, and images 10-point, footnotes and endnotes 8-point, and all other texts 12-point. Bold and italics may be used according to APA Publication Manual (7th ed.). "Capitalize Each Word" may be used for Headings.

4.4 Line Spacing

Line spacing will be as: SINGLE line space in tables, charts, diagrams, graphs, images, footnotes and endnotes; SINGLE line space for caption of tables, figures, charts, diagrams, graphs, and images; SINGLE line space for footnotes of tables, figures, charts, diagrams, graphs, and images; 1.5-point line space for other parts of the proposal; and DOUBLE line space between paragraphs and entries of references, footnotes, endnotes, and block quotation.

4.5 Indentation

1st line of the 1st paragraph in a section should be with justified aligned, not indented. This style should be maintained after an extract or block quotation. First line of the second and subsequent paragraphs under a heading or sub-heading, however, should be intended by 0.5-inch. Block quotation should also be left indented only by 0.5-inch.

4.6 Page Numbering

4.7 Footnotes and Endnotes

Footnotes are allowed sparingly placed at the bottom of each page for easy reference, but endnotes are discouraged. The footnote reference is superscripted and the explanation at the bottom of the page begins with the footnote reference number. Footnotes and endnotes should be numbered in Arabic numeral consecutively using word processor.

4.8 Abbreviations

Term abbreviations should only be used if the abbreviation is relevant and useful to the readers and is used frequently. Use the full term first with abbreviation in parenthesis followed by abbreviation only subsequently. Consistency should be maintained in using abbreviations throughout the manuscript.

4.9 Quotations

Quotations are to be used and cited according to the APA Publication Manual (7th Edition).

4.10 Documentation

Authors will be required to follow the APA Publication Manual (7th ed.) for in-text citation as well as reference.

4.11 Tables, Figures, Charts, Diagrams, Graphs, and Images

Tables, figures, charts, diagrams, graphs, and images should be provided in the highest quality and placed next to the relevant text but not at the end of the proposal. Tables must be included as editable text and not as images. Vertical lines and shading in table cells should be avoided. Legends of tables, figures, charts, diagrams, graphs, and images should be succinct but thorough. Tables, figures, charts, diagrams, graphs, and images, and their legends and footnotes should all be understandable without referring to the text. All abbreviations, symbols, and units of measurement must be defined in the footnotes of tables, figures, charts, diagrams, graphs, and images, and significant statistical values should be foregrounded. All tables, figures, charts, diagrams, graphs, and images must have relevant captions, and these must be numbered separately but consecutively based on their appearance in the proposal. Figures must have numbers and captions under the figures (Fig. 1. Effect of X and Y), while Tables have their titles and numbers above (Table 1. List of X). They must be placed with center alignment.

4.12 Drawings

Any material which cannot be typed, or computer generated should be drawn with permanent black ink in neat and heavy lines. Photographs of drawings are acceptable. Xerox and photoshop reproductions of drawings and/or photographs are acceptable if they are of high contrast. High-quality scanned images can also be inserted into the proposal text. If necessary, photographs can be mounted with glue and photocopied.

4.13 Headings and sub-headings in main text

Heading 1: Level 1 heading style (Bold, not Italicized) (Introduction, Literature review, Objectives of the study/Research questions/Hypotheses, Methodology, Expected results, and Conclusion should be in the Heading 1).

Heading 2: Level 2 heading style (Bold and Italicized) (e.g., Heading 2 “Instrumentation” under the Heading 1 “Methodology”)

Heading 3: Level 3 heading style (No Bold but Italicized) (e.g., Heading 3 “Pilot Study” under Heading 2 “Instrumentation”)

Heading 4: Level 3 heading style (No Bold but Italicized). (Put a colon after the heading and start the texts after the colon)

4.14 Bulleted & numbered lists

- For bulleted lists
- (1) For numbered lists

4.15 Print Quality

Clear, clean, and sharp copies are required. A high-quality laser printer should be used for printing the proposal manuscript. In the case of photocopied materials, there should not be any fading, extraneous marks or grey background.

4.16 Printing

The proposal should be printed on a single-sided format.

5. Sequence of Content

- 5.1 Background and Justification of the Study
- 5.2 Problem Statement/Research Gap
- 5.3 Objectives of the Study
- 5.4 Conceptual/Theoretical Framework (if necessary)
- 5.5 Research Methodology/Materials and Methods
- 5.6 Expected Research Outcomes
- 5.7 References

6. Body of Proposal

Background and Justification of the Study

The background of the study includes a review of the area being researched, current information surrounding the issue, previous studies on the issue, and relevant history on the issue. Ideally, the study should effectively set forth the history and background information of the research problem you are dealing with. The purpose of a background study is to help you prove the relevance of your research questions and to further develop your thesis. Tables, figures, etc. can be added in this section with appropriate references. This section can have sub-section(s) depending on the necessity.

Problem Statement/Research Gap

A statement of problem refers to the critical issue that your research aims to address. In other words, it captures gap in the existing knowledge that your study aims to bridge using reliable results or outcomes. The research problem or gap is identified through an extensive literature review. It can be as little as a few sentences or go all the way to several paragraphs—what matters is it communicates the central focus of your study.

Objectives of the Research

While the previous section deals with the problem formulation, the aim(s) and objectives of your research provide an accurate description of the specific actions you will take to reach the aim(s). The objectives should systematically address the various research questions.

11.04.2023

11.04.2023

They should specify what you will do in your study, where, and for what purpose. Each objective consists of one infinitive sentence and should be phrased in a way that makes it possible to draw a conclusion from within the scope of the thesis. The more precisely you formulate your objectives, the simpler it will be to define the type of study and which method(s) you will use in your further research. Your objectives will signal your level of aspiration as well as where you will place the greatest effort in your thesis.

The objectives can be followed by research questions and/or hypotheses. In case of research questions, the researchers' activities will be to find out answers to the research questions, while in case of hypotheses, the researchers will be testing his/her hypotheses to be proved or disproved.

Conceptual/Theoretical Framework (if necessary)

A conceptual framework elucidates what you aim to explore through your research. It defines the key variables for your study and maps out how they might relate to each other. You should construct a conceptual framework before you begin collecting data. It is often represented in a visual format like a diagram or flowchart.

Research Methodology/Materials and Methods

The methodology describes the broad philosophical underpinning to your chosen research methods. It should be linked back to the literature to explain why you are using certain materials, methods, and the academic basis of your choice.

A well laid out and logical methodology will provide you a great backbone for the entire research and will allow you to build an extremely strong results section. The only real difficulty with the methods section is finding the balance between keeping the section short, whilst including all the relevant information. The section will discuss research paradigm, approach, design, sample and sampling, instrumentation, materials used, data collection methods and techniques, data analysis procedures, data interpretation and presentation etc.

Expected Research Outcomes

This section should give a good indication of what you expect to get out of the research. It should join the data analysis and possible outcomes to the theory and questions that you have raised. It will be a good place to summarize the significance of the work. These outcomes should be in line with the aims and objectives of the research. The section will address set research questions and hypotheses.

A full list of references to key texts and articles must be included according to the APA Citation Manual (7th ed.).

Guide to Doctoral Dissertation Preparation

This guide is designed to provide students with general guidelines and instructions for preparing and formatting of Doctoral dissertation. It covers structure, layout, form, style and referencing along with citation.

General Information

1. Dissertation Title

A PhD student will begin his/her research with a working title of dissertation. The title may be modified or changed at the time of Doctoral Proposal Defense. A minor modification (e.g., rephrasing) in the title may also be allowed at the time of final submission after the successful defense of the dissertation recommended by the examiners. This modification must be endorsed by the DRAC.

2. Word Limit and Paper Size

The length of the dissertation will be at least 20000 words excluding references and appendixes. The recommended paper size is A4.

3. Language

Dissertation on Bangla language, linguistics, literature, and culture may be written in Bangla language. Dissertations on other subjects will be written in English, unless otherwise permitted by BOAS and AC. British or American English should be used consistently if the dissertation is written in English. Sadhu or Cholito form of Bangla should be maintained throughout the article if written in Bangla.

4. General Formatting

4.1 Page Size

Each copy of the dissertation must be printed on A4 size page (8.27" x 11.69") with white background and black font for the text.

4.2 Margins

The left margin must be 1½ -inch, while the right, top and bottom margins should be 01-inch in every page. Text should be justified.

4.3 Font

Times New Roman font should be used to prepare manuscripts in English, while SutonnyMJ/Nikosh font for manuscripts in Bangla. Font size will be as: Title on the Title page 18-point but on other pages 14-point; chapter title 18-point and bold; headings and sub-headings 12-point; texts in tables, figures, charts, diagrams, graphs, and images 10-point, footnotes and endnotes 8-point, and all other texts 12-point. Bold and italics may be used according to APA Publication Manual (7 ed.). "Title Case" may be used for Heading 1, while "Italic" may be used for Heading 2, 3, and 4.

4.4 Line Spacing

Line spacing will be as: SINGLE line space in tables, charts, diagrams, graphs, images, footnotes and endnotes; SINGLE line space for caption of tables, figures, charts, diagrams, graphs, and images; SINGLE line space for footnotes of tables, figures, charts, diagrams, graphs, and images; 1.5-point line space for other parts of the manuscript; and DOUBLE line space between paragraphs and entries of references, footnotes, endnotes, and block quotation.

11.04.2023

~~11.04.2023~~
11.04.2023

4.5 Indentation

1st line of the 1st paragraph in a section should be with justified alignment, not indented. This style should be maintained after an extract or block quotation. First line of the second and subsequent paragraphs under a heading or sub-heading, however, should be indented by 0.5-inch. Block quotation should also be left indented only by 0.5-inch.

All pages except the title page must be paginated. The page numbers must appear at the centre of the bottom of the page starting from the page next to the title page. The position of the page numbers should not change even on pages with landscape mode illustrations.

Front matters of the dissertation, i.e., all materials preceding the dissertation proper (the main body of dissertation) are to be numbered in Roman numerals beginning with i.

Pages of the dissertation proper as well as all items following the main body of dissertation should be numbered consecutively throughout in Arabic numerals, beginning with number 1 on the first page of the first chapter.

Published material(s) submitted with the dissertation whether bound in with the dissertation or not, should not be included in the pagination but must maintain the same margins, font type and size.

4.7 Footnotes and Endnotes

Footnotes are allowed sparingly placed at the bottom of each page for easy reference, but endnotes are discouraged. The footnote reference is superscripted and the explanation at the bottom of the page begins with the footnote reference number. Footnotes and endnotes should be numbered in Arabic numeral consecutively using word processor.

4.8 Abbreviations

Term abbreviations should only be used if the abbreviation is relevant and useful to the readers and is used frequently. Use the full term first with abbreviation in parenthesis followed by abbreviation only subsequently. Consistency should be maintained in using abbreviations throughout the manuscript.

4.9 Quotations

Quotations are to be used and cited according to the APA Publication Manual (7th Edition).

4.10 Documentation

Authors will be required to follow the APA Publication Manual (7th Edition) for in-text citation as well as bibliography/references.

4.11 Tables, Figures, Charts, Diagrams, Graphs, and Images

Tables, figures, charts, diagrams, graphs, and images should be provided in the highest quality and placed next to the relevant text but not at the end of the manuscript. Tables must be included as editable text and not as images. Vertical lines and shading in table cells should be avoided. Legends of tables, figures, charts, diagrams, graphs, and images should be succinct but thorough. Tables, figures, charts, diagrams, graphs, and images, and their legends and footnotes should all be understandable without referring to the text. All abbreviations, symbols, and units of measurement must be defined in the footnotes of tables, figures, charts, diagrams, graphs, and images, and significant statistical values should be foregrounded. All tables, figures, charts, diagrams, graphs, and images must have relevant captions, and these must be numbered separately but consecutively based on their appearance in the manuscript. Figures must have numbers and captions under the figures (Fig. 1. Effect of X and Y), while Tables have their titles and numbers above (Table 1. List of X). They must be placed with centre alignment.

~~6/2023~~

~~6/2023~~

4.12 Drawings

Any material which cannot be typed, or computer generated should be drawn with permanent black ink in neat and heavy lines. Photographs of drawings are acceptable. Xerox and Photoshop reproductions of drawings and/or photographs are acceptable if they are of high contrast. High-quality scanned images can also be inserted into the dissertation text. If necessary, photographs can be mounted with glue and photocopied.

4.13 Headings and sub-headings in main text

Heading 1: Level 1 heading style (Bold, not Italicized) (Introduction, Literature review, Objectives of the study/Research questions/Hypotheses, Methodology, Results and discussion, and Conclusion should be in the Heading 1).

Heading 2: Level 2 heading style (Bold and Italicized) (e.g., Heading 2 “Instrumentation” under the Heading 1 “Methodology”)

Heading 3: Level 3 heading style (No Bold but Italicized) (e.g., Heading 3 “Pilot Study” under Heading 2 “Instrumentation”)

Heading 4: Level 3 heading style (No Bold but Italicized). (Put a colon after the heading and start the texts after the colon.)

4.14 Bulleted & numbered lists

- For bulleted lists
- (2) For numbered lists

4.15 Print Quality

Clear, clean, and sharp copies are required. A high-quality laser printer should be used for printing the dissertation manuscript. In the case of photocopied materials, there should not be any fading, extraneous marks, or grey background.

4.16 Printing

The dissertation should be printed on a single-sided format.

19. Chapter I: Introduction

Overview of the chapter, Background of the study, Statement of the research problem, Aims and objectives of the study, Conceptual/theoretical framework, Overview of methodology, Significance and contributions of the study, Organization of the dissertation, Working definition of terms, Summary of the chapter

Chapter II: Literature Review

Literature review is chronological, categorical, or related theoretical viewpoints related to topic. It shows your reader that you have read and have a good grasp of the main published work concerning the topic of your research. You do not simply describe what others have published in the form of a set of summaries but discuss them critically showing insights and awareness of differing arguments, theories, and approaches. This is a synthesis and analysis of the relevant published work linked to your own study. A good literature review, therefore, demonstrates critical of what has been written, and identifies areas of controversy, raises questions, and finds out areas which require further research.

Chapter III: Methodology

Methodology chapter describes the broad philosophical underpinning to your chosen research methods. It explains why you have used certain methods over others and gives the academic basis of your choice. The section discusses research paradigm, approach, design, sample and sampling, instrumentation, data collection methods and techniques, data analysis procedures, data interpretation and presentation etc. of your present study.

Chapter IV: Findings

This chapter identifies results and findings through analysis of data. The findings may be presented as text, table, graph, chart, image and so on.

Chapter V: Analysis and Discussion

This chapter analyses and discusses the findings. It tries to relate the findings to the existing literature and justifies the findings of the present study.

Chapter VI: Conclusion

This chapter summarizes the entire research effort; addresses the initial purposes and objectives of the study (stated in the introduction); stresses the importance of the work accomplished; leaves a final impression on the reader; includes limitations of the study along with suggestions for further work.
